Ends 12-day search for Jones

Body found, suspect charged with capital murder

By ELLIS CUEVAS

A preliminary hearing for a suspect charged with capital murder in the death of a Diamondhead businessman is set for Monday in Hancock County Justice Court.

Senior Circuit Court Judge Kosta Vlahos refused bail at an initial appearance Wednesday by William Archey Bowden, 45, of Rt. 5, Box 5-B near Diamondhead, "...because of the nature of the charges."

Bowden is charged with capital murder in the death of Diamondhead businessman T.C. Jones.

The suspect was taken into custody and charged with capital murder late Tuesday night after he led law enforcement officers to Jones' badly decomposed remains off Whipple Road near Pearlinton, Hancock County Sheriff Ronnie Peterson said.

Hancock County Public Defender William Frisbie was named to defend Bowden at Wednesday's appearance.

"Bowden, a neighbor of Jones, was a suspect early in an investigation into the whereabouts of Jones which began 12 days ago," the sheriff stated.

"He was seen at a Waveland car wash by Waveland Patrolman Danny Carter at 1:30 a.m. on the night of September 18," Peterson stated.

On Tuesday Bowden was taken by Hancock authorities to Jackson for a polygraph test, and it was on the way back from the test he led police to the body of the victim, the sheriff explained.

The victim was reportedly last seen about 8:10 p.m. on Sept. 18 by an elderly aunt.

Shirley Jones, wife of the victim, had spent the night he disappeared at their farm located in Stone County, Peterson said, adding, "Mrs. Jones returned home the next morning, and when her husband did not return that night, called the sheriff's office to report him missing."

When Jones, the owner of T.C. Jones Nursery & Supplies at Diamondhead, was reported missing, officers almost immediately began to treat the matter as foul play.

"Everyone we talked to who knew Jones, indicated it would have been unlikely for him to have left home without telling anyone," Peterson noted.

Hancock County Medical Examiner Harold Stiglet said Wednesday afternoon, "After a preliminary examination of the victim's remains by a New Orleans forensic pathologist, death was reportedly caused by a shotgun blast to the chest."

A 20-gauge shotgun, broken into two pieces, was recovered from a pond off Hwy. 90 west of BaySide Park Wednesday afternoon.

The suspect had led investigators to the pond Wednesday morning, and later a lengthy search was conducted in the marshy area by deputies from a small boat and by wading waist-deep in mud and water.

The area where Jones' remains were found, rolled in a carpet-like material, was referred to by a long time Pearlinton resident as being behind the old Dave Weston Pecan Farm off Hwy. 604 on the outskirts of Pearlinton and Logtown.

Bowden told Judge Vlahos that he had one daughter, aged 24, and obtained a GED certificate while in the Army. The suspect also said he lived in a trailer, listing his address as Rt. 5, Box 5-B, Bay St. Louis, MS.

Jones' address was Rt. 5, Box 5, Bay St. Louis.

Bowden stated he worked for Hickory Paint Welding & Service for about two and a-half years and reported an income of $250-300 per month.

No zoning change for property near new hospital site

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK

Zoning for lots adjacent the site of the new hospital will remain residential.

In a legal opinion released Wednesday concerning a zoning change from residential to hospital-clinic for four lots facing Drinkwater Road, Attorney John Scafield stated a Sept. 15 vote in favor of the change was moot.

Research of several Mississippi cases indicate once a zoning change has been rejected and time for an appeal has expired, the decision becomes final, he stated.

The same matter can not be considered again at a later date unless it can be shown that there has been a substantial change in the circumstances since the date of the original ruling, Scafield continued.

Bay St. Louis Councilmen originally rejected a motion to rezone the four lots Aug. 26 and appeal time expired Sept. 5.

Scafield said the reconsideration of the same proposed zoning change on Sept. 15 was "improper absent a showing of material change in circumstances" between the two votes.

"Since no evidence showing a change of circumstances was presented on Sept. 15, it is our opinion that the vote taken on Sept. 15 was of no legal effect and did not change the previous decision of Aug. 26 on the proposed zoning change," Scafield said.

Bay Mayor Victor Franckiewicz Jr. cited the opening of the new hospital as an example of a substantial change when the issue could be brought up again.

Scafield also commented on the necessity of a 4-1 vote for the zoning change necessary in this case due to a valid petition opposing the change being presented prior to the council's vote.

City officials verified the petition was signed by the owners of more than 20 percent of the area of the lots included in the proposed change and also by more than 20 percent of those owners within a radius of 160 feet of the external boundaries of the area proposed to be rezoned, he said.

Both the Mississippi code and city zoning ordinances require a two-thirds or 4-1 vote on zoning issues in the event of a protest.

Therefore a 2-3 vote on the issue was not sufficient to change the zoning, Scafield stated.

Supervisors split vote on changing attorneys

By DENA BISNETTE

The Hancock County Board of Supervisors has a new attorney.

The board voted in a split decision Tuesday to terminate Walter James Phillips as board attorney because Phillips is unable to attend many of the supervisors' meetings.

After terminating Phillips, the supervisors split again on a decision to hire the firm of Gex, Gex and Phillips in order to have Gerald Gex as attorney.

The request for a new attorney was made by Beat Three Supervisor Roger Dale Ladner.

Phillips was not present at the meeting and Gex was substituting for him.

Since Phillips was hired, Joseph Gex Jr. has also substituted for him.

Phillips is a member of the State House of Representatives and is unable to meet with the board when the legislature is in session or when his legislative committees meet.

"I feel like we need an attorney that can be here and help us with our problems, someone who can attend meetings. We need continuity," Ladner said.

"We turn something over to one attorney and then at the next meeting a question comes up about it. We've got a different attorney and we can't get an answer because he hasn't had time to confer with the other one," Ladner said.

"I sympathize with Walter James (Phillips) for being so busy, but that's not helping us."

"He is a fine attorney, one of the best in town, but if he's not here he can't help us," Ladner added.

Gerald Gex said he could try to make arrangements for Phillips and Joseph Gex Jr. to have conferences before substitutions are made at board meeting, but Ladner objected to that solution.

Ladner said he had no objection to continuing with the firm of Gex, Gex and Phillips as long as Gerald Gex serves as the board attorney because he is the only member of the firm available on a full-time basis.

Prior to the time that Phillips was named board attorney, the supervisors made a decision to retain the firm because the board's previous attorney, Walter Gex III, had been a member of that firm.

Walter Gex resigned after being selected for a federal judgeship.

Ladner also stated that he has never been sure whether or not Phillips' serving as attorney to the board and a state legislator at the same time has constituted a conflict of interest.

Beat Four Supervisor Sam Perniciaro objected, saying he wanted "to talk this thing through" with Phillips before terminating him.

Ladner then pointed out that Phillips had been present during only one of the board's last five meetings for an entire session, present less than one hour during two others and absent during the other two.

Beat One Supervisor Bert Courge said, "I agree we need an attorney present for the meetings, but I'd hate to do this to someone without telling him."

Courge seconded Ladner's motion to terminate Phillips and Board

President and Beat Two Supervisor A.A. Kellar called for a roll call vote.

Ladner, Courge and Beat Five Supervisor James Travica voted to terminate Phillips as board attorney. Kellar and Perniciaro voted no.

"I just can't do it without telling him first," Perniciaro said.

Ladner then offered the job to Gerald Gex.

"This puts me in a bad spot. I don't want my firm to lose your business but I can't do that to Walter James. He's my law partner and he's my

Attempted kidnapping claim believed false

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK

The Hancock County Sheriff's Department this week is investigating an alleged attempted kidnapping involving school bus passengers.

The Tuesday incident was reported to the sheriff's office by the grandmother of six- and nine-year-old sisters who were passengers on a Bay-Waveland School District bus.

The bus was in the vicinity of Blue Meadow Road near Joe's Bayou when the alleged incident occurred, the sheriff's office reported.

Sheriff Ronald Peterson said Wednesday he does not believe there was an actual kidnapping attempt.

"Stories we received from the bus driver and students on the bus conflicted with the complainant's version," he said.

Peterson also said a man answering a description given by the student who made the attempted kidnapping accusations had been questioned but apparently was never in the vicinity of the bus.

The students who claim to be the victims of the attempted kidnapping said a man handed the bus driver a note indicating the students should get off the bus with him, according to investigators.

Neither the bus driver, the subject questioned nor other students on the bus agree with the complainant's report, officers said.

TEXAS FLAT ROAD is inspected Wednesday morning by Beat Four Supervisor Sam Perniciaro, left, and McLeod Water Park Manager Joseph Caret. Barrier Construction of Sildell, La., completed shaping and compaction work on the roadbed earlier this week and will pour an asphalt surface from Highway 603 to the park entrance on Friday, Perniciaro said. The project was originally expected to cost $50,000 but the actual cost will probably be between $55,000 and $60,000, he added.

The surface will be 18 feet wide and consist of two inches of asphalt compacted to 1.5 inches. The two lanes of the road will be poured separately to keep the road open to traffic. Perniciaro said the county had attempted to procure assistance from the U.S. Army Strategic Defense Road Program, but would have had to wait several years before funding could be allocated with no guarantee that money would be available. A Sea Coast Echo article concerning the legality of a petition against hospital-clinic zoning incorrectly stated the zoning change would remain if the petition was found to be valid. A valid petition would in fact prevent the zoning change.

Business associates from Picayune, Gulfport, and Louisiana last week offered a $10,000 reward for information on the whereabouts and return of Jones.

An intensive investigation into the whereabouts of Jones had been conducted by the sheriff's office and volunteers since he was reported missing.

Diamondhead and surrounding areas had been combed in addition to dragging and diving operations in the Jourdan River near the I-10 bridge.

Peterson said evidence indicates at this time that Jones was apparently struck on his head by a tire tool near his residence, placed in the trunk of the suspect's vehicle, transported to the isolated area, and then shot.

The suspect is originally from the state of Oregon and had lived for some time in Alabama before coming to Hancock County.

An empty money bag was found near the victim's body, and there were some large bills found in the trunk of Bowden's car, Peterson added.

A substantial amount of Jones' money was reportedly missing.

Peterson indicated many hours have been spent on this case and the investigation will continue.

The case is being handled by Peterson, Hancock County Criminal Investigators Delbert Seay, Glen Strong, and Alvin Ladner, with assistance from a host of Hancock County deputy sheriffs.

Point of Law

(Prepared by the Mississippi State Bar. Some legal rights may vary from locality to locality. Always consult an attorney when in doubt about your rights.)

POINT OF LAW

Q. Does the law protect a worker who is fired on discipline for trying to promote better working or safety conditions?

A. Yes, in certain circumstances. While there is no state law in Mississippi that would prevent an employer from discharging or disciplining any worker who did this, the National Labor Relations Board (NLRB), a Federal agency may be willing to do so.

The commonly-held notion that the NLRB only protects the rights of unionized workers, or those trying to unionize, is wrong. Some common examples of protected concerted activities are: (a) lodging complaints about safety or other workplace conditions; (b) protesting the actions of supervisors, including the discharge or discipline of fellow workers; (c) protesting salary, benefits or production policies.

A worker may file, and the NLRB will consider, an "unfair labor practice charge" as long as three conditions are met: (a) the employer is subject to NLRB jurisdiction (government employers are excluded, as well as those subject to the Railway Labor Act, and the NLRB has dollars volume limits which exclude smaller employers—e.g., retail businesses doing less than $500,000 annual gross volume of business); (b) the employee is covered by the National Labor Relations Act (farm workers, domestic servants, children and spouses of employers, supervisors, managers, and persons working for employers not covered by the NLRA are the most common exclusions); and, (c) the charge is filed within six months of the alleged unfair labor practice.

If the NLRB determines, after investigation, that the charge has merit and if a voluntary settlement is not reached, an unfair labor practice complaint will be filed against the employer by the NLRB Regional Director's Office.

This will be followed by an administrative "trial" in which the employer is the defendant and attorneys from the Regional Director's Office, represent their employee's interests.

If the unfair labor practice charge is sustained, the employers may be required to re-employ the discharged worker and pay back wages.

Employees living in southern Mississippi would be expected to file unfair labor practice charge with the NLRB Region 15 office located in New Orleans. Those living in northern Mississippi would file such charges with the NLRB Region 26 Office in Memphis.

Local high school football teams move into their fourth game of the season Friday night.

The St. Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaws will journey to Long Beach on Friday seeking their first taste of victory this season.

Head Coach Vernon Powell's young Rocks have the desire, but are lacking in experience this rebuilding season. Half of the Rock-A-Chaw squad members are freshmen and sophomores with just a sprinkling of seniors.

The Bearcats usually play a good game against St. Stanislaus, but a few breaks could give the Rocks their first victory of the season.

The Hawks of Hancock North Central continue to fly high with a perfect season.

Coach Irvin Favre probably has one of the best teams in his many years as head mentor of the Hawks.

An offensive unit which has scored three or more TDs a game and a defensive unit holding the opposition to only one score a game in three contests in early season play.

Hancock North Central will host the Pirates of Pass Christian in Hawk stadium Friday night.

Pirate Head Coach Alton Wright's Pirates are hungry for a victory this season.

The Pirates, like the Rock-A-Chaws are rebuilding this season and will take advantage of any scoring opportunity.

Pass Christian would like to sneak up on the Hawks and could do so, if they are caught napping.

Bay High's Tigers have been rolling since their opening season loss by two points to Stone County.

Head Coach Cleveland Williams' Tigers have looked good in victories over Pass Christian and St. Martin.

This week the Tigers will play host to Vancleave's Bulldogs in Tiger stadium.

The Tigers have had several key players out of games because of injuries, and we hope all will be ready for the Bulldogs.

Vancleave should not be taken too lightly by the Tigers, and they always seem to pull up some little extra effort against the Bay squad.

We hope all local high school football supporters will be in the stands Friday night cheering their favorite team to victory.

Remember, kickoffs are at 7:30 p.m.

Local farmers are now beginning to harvest fall crops and making them available at the Farmers Market.

Produce such as green beans, sweet potatoes, turnip greens, potted flowering plants, etc. will be available Saturday, according to several local farmers.

The market is located at the Hancock County Fairgrounds on Longfellow Road and is open on Saturday and Wednesday mornings from 7 a.m. until noon.

I hope to see you at the market, as I go frequently to make some purchases and talk to long-time friends.

Don't forget the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce's End of Summer Cookout scheduled for Sunday.

The cookout will be held at Buccaneer State Park, Pavilion No. 3, noon to 5 p.m.

There are still tickets available at $7 each at the chamber's office on US-90 in Bay St. Louis. For further information call 467-9048.

Remember, someone in attendance will receive a trip for two to New Orleans, compliments of Hancock Travel Agency.

The chamber's membership drive is winding down, and if you are not a member of the chamber and would like to join, contact the chamber office and get a free ticket to the cookout as an extra bonus.

Unfounded accusations of child abuse cause family distress, waste of agencies' time and money

Sept. 22, 1986

Dear Sir:

In recent weeks, it has come to our attention that some of our friends and acquaintances have been reported to either the Welfare Department or Youth Court for alleged abuse or neglect of their children.

Although the mistreatment of children by parents is not uncommon, of the three cases that we are aware of, there really was no abuse or neglect, just someone trying to cause trouble or seeking revenge against the parents.

Our congratulations go out to the ignorant low-lives who reported these people, for they accomplished what they set out to do. They caused quite a bit of grief and embarrassment to their intended victims and

In defense of Garden Isle residents:

Dear Editor,

I'd like to answer Mrs. Faye LaFontaine.

Yes, I do think we needed a four-way stop on Chapman and Washington. We have had quite a few near misses at that intersection.

We also need a street light on Longfellow and 603 and a turn-off of the 603 into Longfellow.

At night you cannot see the reflection until you start to make your turn and it's a fairly sharp turn onto the narrow bridge.

The people who use this turn on Longfellow, Washington roads are not only people from Garden Isle.

I've driven behind them and they take shortcuts to US-90 either using Longfellow to McLaurin to US-90 or to Washington and US-90.

If Mrs. LaFontaine has lived on Washington Road for 43 years why has she not tried to get a neighborhood or community association started herself a long time ago?

We are not a subdivision, we're a small community which got together and formed an association.

We have a neighborhood watch and a security guard. And, I might add, we are a group of people who work together and look out for one another.

We have speed signs and we do know the difference between red and green. We also know we have a lot of sightseers who do not live in Garden Isle who throw trash and garbage along Chapman Road and also drive 50 to 60 miles an hour.

Neither I nor my neighbors live in a swamp.

I was told a long time ago by an old gentleman that this ground back here where we live was a cow pasture, and I'm sure cows would not be living in a swamp.

The drainage ditch of which she as a bonus they upset and frightened the children involved.

Unfortunately there is considerable time and money wasted due to the Welfare Department and Youth Court having to investigate these cases.

We hope that the next time someone considers involving the Welfare Department or Youth Court in such foolishness, they'll think twice.

These two departments are overburdened as it is and hardly have time to investigate the cases that really do need their attention.

Sincerely

speaks of emptying into the Watts Bayou, we are also inquiring about. We just had an EPA man take samples of the water a few months ago and we're awaiting an answer.

That comes from the Waveland and Bay St. Louis sewerage plants and we were told that the chemicals used at the plants break it down before it reaches the Watts Bayou.

Of course, at times we are told this sometimes works more effectively than at other times with the chemicals.

You are not the only one who has complaints, but do not take it out on Garden Isle Community Association.

We live in our community and we enjoy it very much. We work out our problems when need be. We are not too small—we have 92 members and also a lot of people who are not residents but who own property and homes back here.

Last but not least, we are not dummies—we know and see a lot more than you give us credit for.

Also, if I may add an answer to Mr. Herbie Betz about street signs: I would suggest that anyone caught destroying these signs and pulling up the poles which show bird sanctuary, no hunting and the street signs, be charged for this offense and if it be a juvenile, the parents would be responsible for the cost and replacement of the sign.

A lot of our street signs disappeared and Mr. Travirca had them replaced, but said the county could not continue to replace them.

To me the solution would be to fine anyone who tampers with the signs or if they are children, to fine the parents.

PREPARING FOR NEW FEDERAL ENVIRONMENTAL RULES

Hundreds of Mississippi business owners and operators woke up to find themselves under a new federal regulation a few days ago.

The date was September 22.

On that date, some 3,000 Mississippi businesses came under new federal environmental protection rules and regulations. And, the word is out: There will be strict enforcement of the new rules.

Generators of as little as 220 pounds of hazardous waste per month are now required to notify the state's Department of Natural Resources of that waste generation, and they are required to dispose of the waste by means other than a local land fill.

The State Department of Natural Resources expects most hazardous waste generators to have to find out-of-state waste disposal sites.

The new regulation touches such businesses as service stations, small print shops, dry cleaners, auto repair shops, and similar businesses.

Small quantity hazardous waste generators will want to be prepared to comply with the rules and regulations.

New business welcome addition to neighborhood

Eyes on Mississippi

By Bill Minor

JACKSON—The tottering regime of House Speaker C. B. "Buddie" Newman now appears closer than ever to being toppled. Last week, a majority of the Mississippi House members were busy behind the scenes trying to agree on a strategy, and a timetable for changing House leadership.

So far, after a summer-long wave of telephone calls and visits among members, and the first of apparently a succession of strategy caucuses, there is no consensus as to who may replace Newman.

But there is an evident consensus among restive House members that Newman will either give up his power at the end of this term or it will be taken away from him.

Seventeen lawmakers representing four House members considered among the leading prospects for the speakership, held a closed-door caucus in Jackson Wednesday as an exploratory exercise to coordinate all dissident factions toward a common goal of electing a new speaker.

Feelings reportedly ran all the way from taking Newman to the guillotine as soon as the session convenes in January to allowing him to bow out gracefully. Those who felt Newman should be allowed to leave in dignity apparently prevailed.

However, there was a firm conviction that Newman should be served with an ultimatum from a majority of the membership in January that he must agree to relinquish power after the end of the 1987 session, or he will be replaced during the upcoming session.

The initial caucus had been the outgrowth of jockeying by several aspirants for the speakership which indicated that the frontrunners at the moment are Rep. Ralph Doxey of Holly Springs, Rep. Mike Mills of Aberdeen, Rep. Mike Nipper of Grenada and Rep. Terrell Stubbs of Mendenhall.

Significantly, no attempt was made in the initial get-together to seek a consensus on a single candidate who may have the best chance of winning.

Nor was there any determination on the question of electing a speaker pro tem at the 1987 session, a step that many House members believe must be taken to make the transition process work efficiently.

Newman has been opposed to the idea of electing a speaker pro tem, despite the fact that he came into power via the same route in 1974, over bitter objection of ailing House speaker John Junkin.

The initial caucus had been the outgrowth of jockeying by several aspirants for the speakership which indicated that the frontrunners at the moment are Rep. Ralph Doxey of Holly Springs, Rep. Mike Mills of Aberdeen, Rep. Mike Nipper of Grenada and Rep. Terrell Stubbs of Mendenhall.

Significantly, no attempt was made in the initial get-together to seek a consensus on a single candidate who may have the best chance of winning.

Nor was there any determination on the question of electing a speaker pro tem at the 1987 session, a step that many House members believe must be taken to make the transition process work efficiently.

Newman has been opposed to the idea of electing a speaker pro tem, despite the fact that he came into power via the same route in 1974, over bitter objection of ailing House Speaker John Junkin.

Reluctance on the part of some House members to create the post of speaker pro tem is based on the belief that it would have the effect of picking the next speaker and they want on open race in 1988.

Consequently, some are pushing the idea that the House should agree on some member who is a parliamentary and legislative specialist to take the pro tem on an interim basis. They contend a pro tem would remove J. A. "Bud" Thigpen, the present parliamentarian who is intensely loyal to Newman, from the position of influence he now has in House proceedings.

Veteran Rep. Jim Simpson of Long Beach, a top Newman floor leader, apparently would like to become pro tem if the post is going to be created, and also take a crack at being elected speaker if Newman steps down.

While upstate lawmakers have speculated that Simpson would have solid backing from the coastal area counties, several Coast lawmakers say privately they would not support Simpson in a showdown because of his strong ties to Newman.

One surprise name injected in the speculation as a compromise speaker pro tem is freshman Rep. Rick Portenberry of Meridian, one of the brightest House members who also has a background as a legislative technician. He served seven years as both a House and Senate staffer.

Newman won't give up without a fight, or by trying some maneuver to hold on to power, a number of the members at last week's caucus said.

One indication is that Newman may shift his strategy on the House rules changes which he has adamantly opposed. His obstinate stance helped trigger the movement for his ouster.

According to Rep. Margaret "Wootsie" Tate of Picayune, a free-spirited lawmaker and one of the "terrible 28" who unsuccessfully pushed the rules revisions in 1984, Newman admitted to her recently that the rules should be changed.

But at this late stage of the game, most House observers believe, it would be impossible for Newman to weather the coup, even by suddenly relenting on the rules changes that would reduce his power.

HNC Elementary sponsoring book fair

Hancock North Central Elementary School is sponsoring a Book Fair from Thursday through Tuesday, Sept. 30 during school hours from 8:30 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Book Fairs offer children an opportunity to select and buy quality paperback books and take them home with them during Book Fair week.

and for all reading levels and ages. In addition, books of interest to parents and teachers are included in the fair.

The books are going to range in prices of $1 to $5. Our school will earn a percentage of all sales we make, so we invite your support of this exciting fund-raising event.

Pine Hills Hotel asbestos removal contract awarded

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK

Removal of asbestos-containing insulation from Pine Hills Hotel is underway.

Hotel owners, du Pont de Nemours and Company, reported North Brothers Company of Jackson was awarded the contract and work began last week.

Asbestos was discovered in the insulation for pipes and ducts in the hotel as du Pont officials began the process of dismantling the building.

Removal of the asbestos is expected to take several weeks.

Du Pont officials reported in May plans to demolish the hotel due to their concern for the safety of people who frequent the property despite efforts to secure the building and grounds.

Garry Ruff, project coordinator, said dismantlement plans continue but there is no projected completion date.

Vets service group elects Mike Ladner

Hancock County Veterans Service Officer Mike Ladner is the new vice president of Mississippi Veterans Service Officers Association.

Ladner was named to the position at the 84-member association's recent annual conference in Jackson.

In addition to the election of officers, Ladner reports the following matters were discussed at the conference:

—Public Law 97-37 defines and outlines benefits authorized ex-POW's. According to the Veterans Administration, ex-POW's are authorized anything that the VA has to offer. Mississippi has 700 ex-POW's, but only 200 have had protocol examinations by VA Hospitals.

The VA requests that any POW who has not had a protocol examination by a VA Hospital do so and apply for VA compensation benefits.

Many more medical problems have been added to the list that may qualify an ex-POW for VA compensation benefits.

—Veterans visiting VA Hospitals after Oct. 1 will not receive travel pay. The VA states there will not be any funds available for travel after Oct. 1 since $3,000,000 has been cut from the VA budget effective FY 1987.

—Frank Godwin, director of the State Veterans Affairs Commission, stated that plans for a new veterans home has just been forwarded to Washington within the past week for approval. Pending approval of the plans for the new Veterans Home, he expects the VA Home to be under construction or completed by 1988.

—Many veterans have been informed by different sources that they are entitled to insurance dividends from GI insurance policies which may have lapsed over the years. The VA states this is a hoax and does not know who started the rumor about insurance dividends due.

—Eligibility Verification Reports (reports of income for those veterans and dependents receiving VA pension benefits) will be sent out during September.

For further information, contact Ladner at 467-2100.

Ingalls-built cruiser commissioned in Boston

PASCAGOULA—The U.S. Navy's fifth Aegis guided missile cruiser built by Ingalls Shipbuilding division of Litton here was commissioned USS Bunker Hill (CG 52) in Boston, Mass., Saturday just a short distance from the Revolutionary War battle site from which the ship draws its name.

Massachusetts Senator Edward M. Kennedy was principal speaker for the 11 a.m. ceremony at the Charlestown Naval Shipyard. USS Bunker Hill joins the U.S. Pacific Fleet.

Captain Philip M. Quast, USN, a native of Sheboygan, Wisc., accepted command of the 567-foot, 9,500-ton warship.

Other speakers for Saturday's ceremony were Vice Admiral William H. Rowden, commander, Naval Sea Systems Command; Vice Admiral Joseph Metcalf III, deputy chief of Naval Operations, Surface Warfare; Vice Admiral George W. Davis Jr., commander, Naval Surface Force, U.S. Pacific Fleet; and Jerry St. Pe, senior vice president of Litton and president of Ingalls Shipbuilding.

Rear Admiral John R. McNamara, chief of chaplains, delivered the invocation.

CG 52 is the fifth ship in a series of Ticonderoga (CG 47) Class Aegis guided missile cruisers being built for the U.S. Navy by Ingalls. Keel of the ship was laid down in 1984. CG 52 was launched in March 1985, and delivered to the Navy in July 1986.

USS Bunker Hill is the first U.S. surface warship to be equipped with the below-deck, advanced MK 41 Vertical Launching System (VLS), a multiwarfare missile launching system capable of striking targets in the air, on and under the ocean surface, and on land.

The cruiser is also equipped with the advanced Aegis weapons system, the most capable shipboard air defense radar system in the world today.

Four gas turbine jet engines power the ship to speeds in excess of 30 knots. CG 52 carries a crew of 29 officers and 360 crewmen.

Lead shipbuilder for five of the latest classes of Navy surface combatants, Ingalls has delivered the Navy's five Aegis cruisers since 1983.

Following USS Bunker Hill, Ingalls has eight additional Aegis cruisers in various stages of production, including Mobile Bay (CG 52) which will join the Fleet in February 1987.

Ingalls has also been selected by the Navy to reactivate and modernize the battleship Wisconsin (BB 64).

BUNKER HILL UNDER WAY—Fifth in a series of advanced Aegis guided missile cruisers being built for the U.S. Navy by Ingalls Shipbuilding division of Litton in Pascagoula, Bunker Hill (CG 52) completed predelivery missile testing in the Gulf of Mexico May 19-22, 1986. The first U.S. Navy warship to be equipped with the Vertical Launching System (VLS), CG 52 was commissioned into the U.S. Pacific Fleet in Boston, Mass. on Sept. 20. (Ingalls Shipbuilding photo)

'Give The Gift of Literacy' fundraising campaign will be launched at Bookends Bookstore Saturday at 2 p.m.

The national campaign is being supported by the American Booksellers Association and other members of the bookselling and publishing industries.

The GTGL campaign enables area residents to contribute small change towards a national effort to provide increased opportunities for both adults and children who want to learn to read.

Efforts are being made by Bookends to see that most of the funds raised locally remain in this area and are used to support and encourage local literacy programs.

Refreshments will be served and the public is invited. Bookends is located with Rosebud Antiques across from the American Legion Pier at 606-B South Beach Blvd. in Bay St. Louis.

Efforts made to accomodate handicapped voters

The "Water Accessibility for the Elderly and Handicapped Act" was signed into Law in 1984 and went into effect on Jan. 1, 1986.

Hancock County has 26 polling sites and three registration sites that provide various degrees of accessibility to the handicapped and elderly voter.

Many polling sites are located in rural areas where few if any suitable buildings can be found.

The Hancock County Election Commission, consisting of five elected commissioners - James Ladner, Frank Lee, Betsy Nolan, Eugene Dillman and Charlie Gottschalk - reports it is striving to provide "easy access" to the voting process.

A voter can register at one of three locations, Bay St. Louis City Hall, the Waveland City Hall or the Hancock County Court House.

One stop at anyone of these locations is all that is required to register for both city and county elections.

The Hancock County Court House is accessible to the handicapped and elderly by entering through the rear doors.

Both City Halls will being registration books to the car if a potential voter is unable to enter the building.

Handicapped voters are encouraged to vote absentee ballots at the Hancock County Court House before each election.

On election day pool workers will bring voting materials to the curbside if requested by a handicapped person.

The next election is on Nov. 4.

County Forester

In this second of a series of four articles prepared by Commission I & E Forester Harold Anderson we're taking a detailed look at the Southern Pine Beetle, using information gleaned from the book "The Southern Pine Beetle", published by the U.S. Forest Service.

Many landowners ask, "Why are Southern Pine Beetles worse some years than others, and why do they hit some places, but not others?"

There are several reasons: One is that the insect comes and goes in cycles. For several years, the population will increase. The population of predators of the beetles (and there are many) will also increase.

But the beetles are very productive, and it takes a while for the predators to catch up to them. When they do, they will decimate the beetles and the numbers of both predators and prey will suddenly fall.

The Southern Pine Beetles may climb to epidemic levels in an area for a year or two before nature finally achieves a balance.

If conditions are just right, the epidemic can be especially bad.

What are these conditions?

Basically, it's trees under stress. Stress is anything that slows down the growth of the trees. It may be climatic factors, such as superabundant rainfall (which often causes problems in the poorly drained lowlands near the Gulf Coast), or drought, which more often affects other sections of the State.

Storms and even lightning strikes are important. Forty percent of the beetle spots have lightning-struck trees, but only one percent of random plots in non-attacked stands have them.

It may take the stress-causing factor from two to twelve months to affect the trees. We can't do much about this, but we can do something about the next factor, which is just as serious: poor management.

Poorly managed stands - those that are overcrowded, overmature or diseased - grow slowly, and become stressed.

We do know that beetles communicate by odor, and some researchers suspect that stressed trees have a different smell, thereby attracting the beetles.

Another is that the female beetles land at random, and attempt to bore through the bark. A vigorously growing tree has such a strong resin flow that they are "pitched out" (washed out by the resin). This explains why longleaf and slash pines are seldom attacked: They produce much more resin than loblolly and shortleaf pines.

When a female beetle bores into a tree a "pitch tube," which looks like a small yellowish-white crawfish mound, is formed at the point of entrance.

For some reason, females arrive first. Then males are lured by their odor. Males don't bore into the bark, but enter through the holes previously made by the females.

The insects construct tunnels under the bark of trees. There they feed and breed. The insects' tunneling and feeding, along with blue-stain fungi they introduce, kills the tree.

The males produce an odor that is repulsive to other beetles. For a while, the female "attractant" scent is overpowering, and more beetles are attracted. As more males arrive, their odor begins to dominate and additional insects are repelled, and instead go to another nearby stressed tree and colonize it.

The beetles are poor flyers, and can't live long in the open, so it's important that they have another acceptable tree fairly close by.

Important points to remember are these: The insects are always in pine forests, but they can't kill trees unless they are able to mass-attack them, and stressed trees make it easier.

"So what," you may ask, "can I do about it?"

Thin! Begin thinning plantations at age 10-15. Remove poorly formed, stunted, and diseased trees. Be sure your trees have plenty of room to grow.

Search your pine stands periodically for lightning-struck trees. Cut them down before the needles begin to turn. Don't worry about getting them out of the woods, once they're on the ground, the Southern Pine Beetles won't attack them.

In next week's column, we'll see what to do once the beetles strike.

Farming erodible land could mean lost benefits

Mississippi farmers who continue to produce crops on highly erodible land without following an approved conservation plan could lose government program benefits such as price supports for cotton, rice, wheat and feed grains.

The 1985 farm bill enacted last year contains key conservation compliance provisions that may disqualify farmers for certain farm program benefits if they continue to farm what the Soil Conservation Service defines as highly erodible land.

Mississippi farmers need to learn as much as possible about conservation compliance and understand the consequences of not complying with this portion of the 1985 farm bill, said Dr. Bob Williams, head of the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service Economics Department.

The intent of conservation compliance is to take highly erodible land out of crop production. The loss of government program benefits such as price supports, disaster payments, crop insurance, Farmers Home Administration loans, storage payments and farm storage facility loans are an incentive for farmers to abide by the conservation provisions.

"Farmers still have time to plan to avoid the loss of their program benefits," Williams said.

Farmers have until Jan. 1, 1990 to develop an approved conservation plan and until Jan. 1, 1995 to have that plan in full effect, Williams said.

According to the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) beginning Jan. 1, 1990, farmers can continue to farm highly erodible land only if they have an approved conservation plan, if their soil has not been mapped or if they are willing to sacrifice program benefits.

Dr. Eddie Funderburg, an Extension agronomist, said farmers who do have land affected by conservation compliance may receive financial assistance to remove erodible lands from crop production by applying for the conservation reserve program.

"Through this program farmers may submit bids in the form of per-acre rentals they are willing to accept to remove eligible land from production for a 10-year period," Funderburg said.

The land may be converted to one of several conservation uses. The government will help pay for putting the land in approved soil conserving practices, which include trees, grass, legumes and wildlife habitat. Conservation reserve program bids were taken in March and May. The third bidding period is Aug. 4-15. The last year of the sign-up will be 1990, the date conservation compliance begins.

Mississippi farmers placed 110,000 acres into the program during the first two conservation reserve signups.

In earlier signups the maximum accepted bid for Mississippi cropland taken out of production was $45 per acre. But Funderburg said farmers should not assume accepted bids will be the same in the third sign-up.

County Agent's Notes

By Lee Taylor

Pounds are the name of the game in commercial beef production. The greater the weight, the bigger the paycheck for the producer. Many producers in Hancock County are weaning heavier calves while some are not.

A producer really doesn't make any money until he starts weaning at least a 400 pound calf. Better breeding and improved nutrition are two ways county producers could improve calf weaning weight.

Several producers are using improved breeds such as Beefmaster, Simmental and Limousin. Our other standard breeds such as Hereford, Angus and Brahama, have also made great improvements in their breeds. It really hurts me to see a producer using an inferior bull. The herd bull should be superior to the herd average.

Another important factor to consider is to watch the size of the bull to the number of cows you have. Normally a mature bull can handle 25-30 cows. If you overwork your bull, he will miss some cows and will start to lose weight from excessive walking.

County producers would do well to follow a controlled calving season. Either a spring or a fall. If you go the fall route, then provisions have to be made for high quality forage and hay. This is a must for a cow nursing a calf.

ARMY WORMS

Forage producers should be on the lookout for fall armyworms. They are fairly easy to identify as they have an inverted "y" on the front of their head. Also they curl up when touched.

I've had two reports of armyworms this year. One in Millet and one in Alecia bermudagrass. The threshold for spraying fall armyworms is when you find 4-7 per square foot of ground.

Sevin and Dylox are good choices for sprays to kill worms. Usually one spraying is all that's needed. Just remember if an infestation of armyworms is allowed to go unchecked they can destroy a field in a matter of 3-4 days or less.

DON'T POISON BEES
Bees make a valuable contribution to agriculture by pollinating many crops. They are also an important source of income. Sometimes, bee poisoning arises that probably could be prevented by better communication between crop growers and beekeepers.

If you as a crop producer must apply an insecticide, try to notify any beekeepers within a two-to-three mile area to be treated. The beekeeper can then take steps to protect his bees from the treatment.

Many decisions to apply insecticides are made only hours before the application.

Crop growers should be aware of all hives in the areas and how to contact the beekeeper. If this information is not available from a local resident, the county Extension office may be able to help.

Beekeepers will need to take special precautions to protect bees in the event certain chemicals are to be applied. Selecting an area with low pesticide risk is essential. Notify crop growers in the area, the county agent and the state apiary inspector about the location of your hives.

By maintaining better communication, we can all be sure that nature's pollinators continue to do their job while protecting the investments of all concerned.

PLANT A LIVING LEGACY

On Sept. 17, 1987, Americans will celebrate the bicentennial of the signing of the United States Constitution. Although this event will be celebrated in many ways, one of the most exciting and lasting is the "Plant a Living Legacy" project.

This project was developed by the Commission on the Bicentennial of the United States Constitution working with various groups such as the American Horticultural Society, the American Association of Nurserymen, the American Society for Landscape Architects, the American Forestry Association, the National Council for Therapy through Horticulture and various other volunteer/service and government organizations.

Our forefathers recognized the importance of trees, plants and flowers in their own lives. What better way to provide a link to the past and a legacy to future generations than by commemorating the signing of the constitution with the planting of a "living legacy!"

Citizens all over the United States are encouraged to plant a new garden, restore an existing garden or park, plant trees and flowers along public streets and roadways or identify and preserve natural areas.

Ideas for the projects are to be developed and carried out by local people in their own areas. The only requirement is that there must be a plan to maintain them and the projects must be on publicly owned land or on property that is open to the public if they are to be recognized by the Bicentennial Commission as official "Living Legacy Projects."

Some examples of projects are:

Urban Beautification Projects - adopting a neglected park, installing planters for flowers along public areas, planting flowers and shrubs on traffic islands, refurbishing the town's courthouse square or grounds of a public building.

Tree Projects - replacing or providing maintenance to street trees lost to disease, implementing community-wide tree planting on Arbor Day at schools, researching history of trees and where feasible replanting species which were part of the original design, creating an arboretum for educational purposes, planting trees in public areas, sponsoring tree and plant care seminars and developing a program to maintain trees in public spaces.

Special Theme Projects - inventory historic landscapes to sponsor restoration, recreate an historic garden, create a garden or park for the handicapped or elderly perhaps with raised garden beds and accessible walkways, sponsor a children's garden, plant a heritage garden to preserve genetic diversity or plant an ethnic garden.

Natural Area Projects - preserve an important natural area such as a wetland, grove or virgin timber or habitat for an endangered species, identify and preserve remnants of native prairie, or plant wildflowers along roadsides and in public areas.

The "Plant a Living Legacy Project" provides a challenging opportunity for gardeners everywhere. For more information on how you might become involved in this exciting project, write to: Living Legacy Project, Commission on the Bicentennial of the United States Constitution, 734 Jackson Place, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20503.

Hancock, Harrison roads absent in state's four-laning proposal

Jackson—Every Geographic area of the state has pressing needs for four-lane highways and these needs must be considered when a major highway construction program is presented to the Mississippi Legislature.

This was among the conclusions reached by the chairman and vice chairman of the House Transportation Committee, Representatives John Pennebaker of New Albany and Billy McCoy of Rienzi.

The two legislators recently completed a series of statewide hearings to discuss various options for construction and financing of a comprehensive four-lane highway program. A report on the hearings was presented during the final meeting, which was held Sept. 17 at the State Capitol in Jackson.

Approximately 1,200 people participated in the meeting across the state representing a broad base of elected officials as well as businessmen, industrialists, professionals, educators and interested citizens.

While there was no overwhelming majority opinion at the hearings in regard to how the construction program should be financed, the two legislators said there was agreement that Mississippians "want and expect a complete four-lane system within the next eight to 12 years."

In addition, they said the hearings indicate Mississippians do not mind paying extra taxes to support such a program if the expenditures are limited by law to the highways and areas of greatest need.

Pennebaker and McCoy said legislation would be prepared, as a starting point for consideration in the 1987 session, providing for a major four-lane construction program at an estimated cost of $1.5 billion or more.

Specific highways would be designated for completion of four-laning, including US-72, US-78, US-45 and US-45 Alternate, US-82, and US-84.

The plan also would include four-laning major segments of other highways including US-61 from the Tennessee line to Greenville; US-61 from Vicksburg to the Louisiana line; Goodman Road in the DeSoto County area; State Highway 25 from Starkville to the Jackson area; US-98 from McComb to the Alabama line; and State Highway 63 extended north through Jackson, George and Greene counties to join US-45 at the Alabama line.

The report said the plan would not satisfy all of the "wants" of every area but is an attempt to meet "their essential-highway needs in terms of developing the potential of their people and the potential of their land, water and timber resources."

Pennebaker and McCoy said they were pleased with the turnout and strong interest in highways during the 12 regional meetings and the final session in Jackson. The regional meetings were held at Corinth, Tupelo, Starkville, Hernando, Clarksdale, Winona, Natchez, Tylertown, Gulfport, Lucedale, Laurel and Meridian.

blocked several days for repairs. The work is expected to be completed by Friday. (Echo staff photo by Brenda Heathcock)

INJURED DRIVER—Bystanders watch as Mobile Medic personnel assist 14-year-old Jimmie Candebat of Kiln, driver of a farm tractor involved in a two-vehicle collision Saturday afternoon on Highway 603 just south of LaFrance Grocery. Candebat was admitted to Hancock General Hospital for observation and was released Monday, Hospital Community Relations Director Mary Perkins said. Also injured in the collision were the driver and passengers of the pick-up truck that collided with the tractor. According to Perkins, Driver Leo Schwartz, 23, of Bay St. Louis, was treated and released following the accident, and one passenger, David Schwartz, 27, of Bay St. Louis, was transferred to Garden Park Memorial Hospital for treatment of facial injuries. Passenger John Lee, 22, of Standard, was treated at the scene by Mobile Medic personnel. The accident is under investigation by State Trooper Houston Dorr III. (Staff photo by Dena Bisnette)

Bay school board meeting on building program rescheduled for Monday

BY DENA BISNETTE

A special meeting of the Bay Waveland School District Board has been rescheduled for 6 p.m. Monday.

The meeting's original purpose, which was to allow architects to present their proposals for a district building program, will remain the same, Superintendent of Education Roger Oge said Tuesday.

The time of the meeting has been moved up from 7 p.m. to 6 p.m. to allow more architects to speak. Each will be limited to 15 minutes and may allocate part of that time for question and answer sessions.

Oge said the meeting was postponed because two board members were unable to attend due to illness of family members.

The architectural firms expected to present proposals Monday include Leonard A. Collins, Biloxi; Dunn and Randall, Gulfport; Fountain and Lamas, Biloxi; Thomas A. Habeeb Jr. and Associates, Pascagoula; and Don D. Leopard, Gulfport.

Also included are Donald A. Maginnis III, New Orleans, La.; Michael Reeves, Bay St. Louis; Virden, Alexander and LaCoste, Jackson; Fred Wagner, Bay St. Louis; and Compton-Bolton Associates, Biloxi.

Juveniles arrested for vandalism at BaySide Park

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK

Two 14-year-old Hancock County youth were taken into custody Tuesday in connection with vandalism at BaySide Park.

Hancock County Investigator Alvin Ladner said assistance and cooperation of concerned citizens in BaySide Park led authorities to these youth.

The Aug. 30 vandalism included extensive graffiti on all four sides of the BaySide Park Civic Association Building.

The youth were turned over to Hancock County Youth Court authorities.

Volunteer.

In addition, the 14 architectural firms include Robert Derwood Ladner and Verges Associates, New Orleans; J. Mykolyk and Associates, Pass Christian; Eskew, Vogt, Salvato and Filson, Biloxi; and Canon Engineering Company, Gulfport.

The superintendent said he plans to recommend that the board select three architects from the 14 expected to make presentations.

If the board accepts the recommendation, Oge plans to request a second special meeting.

That meeting is expected to be scheduled within a week of the Monday night meeting.

The meeting will allow the three architects selected to present more detailed proposals.

The district presently has a five-year-old draft of a long-range building program, but that plan will probably have to be modified with regard to district growth if a new proposal is not selected.

The district needs a building program to cope with overcrowding, Oge said. Reports from school principals at a previous meeting indicated that all four schools in the district and one satellite operation, St. Rose de Lima Fifth Grade Center, are already operating at full capacity.

Kellar said that the board had originally voted, after Walter Gex resigned, to hire the firm without naming a specific individual. The understanding at the time was that Joseph Gex would serve as the primary attorney for the board.

The board later voted to name Phillips as the board's attorney rather than the firm in general to allow Phillips to obtain related state retirement benefits.

"I'm sorry about the benefits but the man will still be getting something from being a state legislator. My first concern is for Hancock County. We have legal matters pending against us right now," Ladner said.

"Gerald, do you want this job? If you don't, there are a lot of attorneys on this street who need work and I'll go find one," Ladner added.

When Gerald Gex requested that the supervisors wait until Monday to make a decision, Ladner said there had been "too much delay" and that the board needed an attorney immediately.

He agreed when Courge said he would second a motion to hire Gex, Gex and Phillips as long as Gerald Gex was specified as the board's primary attorney.

Gerald Gex and Kellar said that naming the firm rather than an individual attorney would also resolve a problem with possible conflict of interest.

Gerald Gex serves with Robert Genin as an attorney for the Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission and would have to resign that position if he were named as an individual to serve as supervisors' attorney.

In addition, Joseph Gex Jr. serves as the attorney for the Hancock County School Board.

He stated after the meeting that he accepted the job because he did not want his firm to lose the board of supervisors as a client.

The vote to hire the firm was four to one, with approval from Ladner, Courge, Perniciaro and Travica. Kellar originally abstained from voting, then changed his vote to no. In other business Tuesday, the supervisors:

—Delayed action on purchase of a Highway 43 site for a central county barn because a survey report was not available;

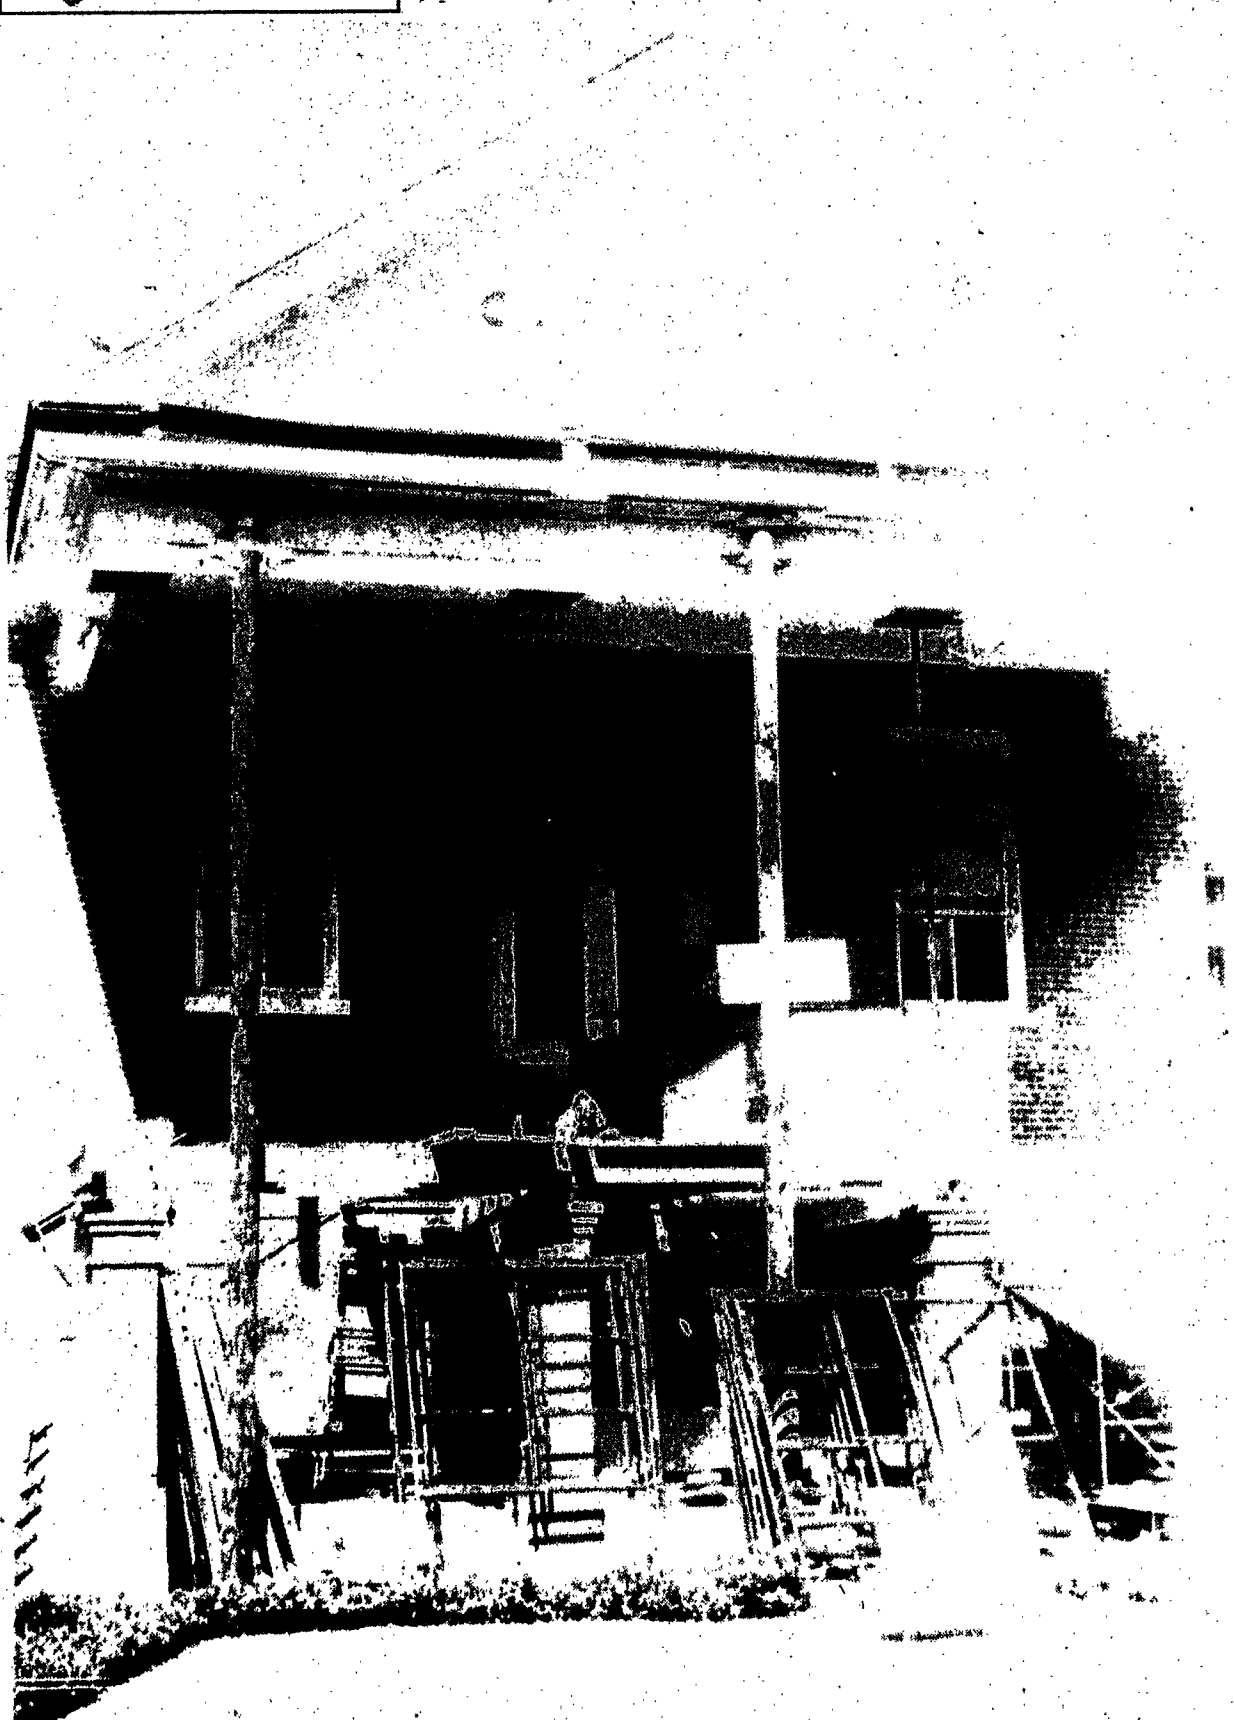

—Approved action by Tax Collector and Assessor Edward Murtagh on obtaining emergency roof repairs after a leak damaged a computer in the courthouse annex;

—Agreed to bid for sale of two used buses belonging to the Hancock County Senior Citizens Program;

—Discussed a complaint from two workers who said they had not been paid by a subcontractor working on the Hancock Medical Center site; and

Tigers trying for third district, conference win

BY DENA BISNETTE

The Bay St. Louis Senior High School Tigers will try for their third district and conference win Friday when they host the Vancleave Bulldogs.

The Bulldogs will be playing their first district and conference game on this season's schedule. The Tigers will be playing their fourth.

Despite a losing streak for the Bulldogs, Tiger Head Coach Cleveland Williams is expecting Friday night's game to be a hard-fought battle.

"Even though the Bulldogs' record is 0-3, they always manage to play the Tigers really hard," Williams said.

"I have watched tapes of Vancleave's club playing two games and they are big and physical. Their offense is basically built up around some good receivers and the quarterback, who throws well from the shotgun formation," he added.

"They have a good combination, Seymoure and Wells, if you permit them time to throw the ball."

The outcome of the game could depend on the results of the Tigers' early moves against Vancleave.

"We have played two good games and we're improving each week, but we must be ready to take the fight out of them early in the game or we will be in for a long night," Williams said.

"We are going to try to open up our offense a little more this week because we have developed good receivers and our quarterback, Dwayne Robertson, has improved tremendously."

"We have made changes in our offensive team and we will make more until we get a solid unit that can work together."

Some of the players included in that offensive team played outstanding football in last week's 20-6 victory over Pearl River Central, the Tigers' second conference and district win, Williams said.

They include Mark Haverly, Quentin Bell, Andrew Collins, Dwayne Robertson, Doral Nichols, Greg Ncaise, Geja Carter, Courtney Laureys, Billy Ross and Mike LeGros.

In addition, rushing by Brian Laneaux, who had 101 yards last week, and Aaron Whavers, who had 75 yards, "was a big uplift to our ballclub," the coach said.

On the defensive side, the Tigers are preparing for the Bulldog passers.

"We are spending a lot of time working for a good pass defense, but we are looking at stopping the run as well," Williams said.

"We would like to keep their quarterback contained and put a lot of heat on him. We don't want to let him get comfortable at all."

"Last Friday we played our best defensive game so far, but we must play harder this week to beat Vancleave," the coach added.

"We had a lot of team tackling last weekend and we will need an even better effort out of our boys the weekend."

Probable starters for the Tigers on offense include Robertson at quarterback; Laneaux, running back; Haverly, fullback; Bell, wingback; Dante Curry, split end; Nichols, right tackle; Ncaise, right guard; Carter, left tackle; Laureys, left guard; and Robert Hargett, tight end.

Defensive starters are expected to include Amade Collins and Laureys, tackles; Carter and Hargett, ends; Ncaise, middle linebacker; Ross, strong side linebacker; Haverly, weak side linebacker; Curry and Bell, cornerbacks; Wayne Karl, strong safety; and Britt Woods, free safety.

The game begins at 7:30 p.m. at McCullough Field.

Rival Pirates full of surprises

Hawks wary of possible upset

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK

The undefeated Hancock North Central Hawks will host "old-time rival" Pass Christian Friday for the third game of the regular season.

"When you are playing old rivals like Pass Christian you have to be prepared for anything," said Hancock Coach Irvin Favre.

What the Hawks need to win is another night like last week with great play on both sides of the ball, he added.

Against Stone County Friday the Hawks tallied an offense of more than 300 yards while holding the Tomcats to slightly over 200 yards.

The Hawks won 24-7.

"In addition to worrying about what can happen while playing major rival, we are concerned the undefeated record of the Hawks and the state ranking of No. 12 might work against us," he said.

This week we are emphasizing that the Hawks must not take the Pirates too lightly or become overconfident, Favre added.

Pass Christian Coach Alton Wright said it is going to take the Pirates' best effort to stay with Hancock Friday.

"They are really a tough team to be facing but anything can happen," he added.

Wright said the Pirate team is almost 100 percent healthy and some players injured in previous games will be returning.

Last week the Pirates were defeated 21-6 by St. Martin.

Offensive Player of the Week against St. Martin is Derrick Benoit. He carried 14 times to gain 79 yards and had two long punt returns.

Tim Murrell with five individual tackles and three assists was named Defensive Player of the Week.

Shinall, Conway carried 15 times for 60 yards and Bobby Dedeaux caught three passes for 44 yards.

Conway and Jason Dedeaux were also cited for outstanding defensive play.

Wright also had words of praise for "good blocking" by offensive linemen Nathan Benard, Mervin Janet and Greg Moffett.

Kickoff in the Hawk stadium will be at 7:30 p.m.

Bay B-Team defeats Pearl River Central

BY DENA BISNETTE

The Bay High Tiger B-Team has increased its season record to 2-0 with a 20-8 victory over Pearl River Central.

In first quarter action Monday, the Tigers scored on a 20-yard run by Andrew Collins.

The run was set up on an option pass to Collins from quarterback

Chad LaFontaine.

Pearl River evened the score to 6-6 in the second quarter when Andy Banks scored on an 80-yard punt return.

The touchdown was followed by a two-point conversion, giving Pearl River Central an 8-6 lead.

The Tigers turned the game around later in the second quarter with a touchdown on a three-yard run by Darren Washington.

Bay High added two points with a pass from LaFontaine to Washington, giving Bay High a lead of 14-8.

In the third quarter, Bay added another touchdown with a 90-yard run from Washington that was set up on a power pass from LaFontaine.

The Tiger B-Team's next game will be against Pass Christian Monday. The game will begin at 6:30 p.m. at McCullough Field.

The B-Team also has two away games scheduled. They include Long Beach at 6 p.m. Oct. 20 and Pass High at 6:30 p.m. Oct. 26.

SSC travels to Long Beach Friday night

The St. Stanislaus Rockchaws journey to Long Beach Friday night to play the Long Beach Bearcats in a varsity football contest. Both teams are 0-3 and are looking for their first victory of the season.

Last Saturday the Rocks fell to Mercy Cross 21-8, while Long Beach felt the explosive power of Ocean Springs in a 43-21 defeat Friday. The Bearcats other two losses were to Gulfport and d'Iberville.

Recapping the St. Stanislaus game against Mercy Cross last Saturday, the Rocks were worn down by the ball-control offense of the Crusaders.

Mercy Cross scored first in the initial quarter on a long drive with sophomore running back Corey McDonald scoring on a two-yard dive. The extra point was no good.

The Rockchaw offense could not move the ball and punted to Mercy Cross. Neither squad could mount an effective drive and the half ended with Mercy Cross leading 13-0.

In the third quarter Mercy Cross scored on a 17 yard touchdown pass from Larry Duvall to flanker Steve Wujek. The pass was completed over the outstretched hands of defensive back Shannon Garrett. The two point conversion made the score 21-0 in favor of Mercy Cross.

After the Rocks offense stalled, Mercy Cross took over and scored on a sustained drive early in the fourth quarter. Tailback Corey McDonald scored again on a nin yard run to increase Mercy Cross' lead to 21-0.

St. Stanislaus fought back and scored with a little over five minutes remaining in the game. Jorge Ponjuan capped an eight play drive with a touchdown run around the right end. The two-point conversion made the score 21-8.

The highlight of the SSC scoring drive was an 18 yard pass completion from freshman quarterback Shannon Garrett to Freddie Wirstrom. The Rocks were facing a 3rd and 15 situation at this point.

SSC assistant coach Larry Ramsey commented, "Other than one serious injury, we came out of the game in pretty good shape. Our offense came to life in the fourth quarter. We drove the ball and scored, and as time ran out we were on Mercy Cross' five yard line. I hope our momentum carries over into the Long Beach game."

Long Beach features a running attack led by senior Robert Taylor, a three year letterman. The Bearcats run a lot of misdirection plays including reverses to help an offensive line that is not that big but is very aggressive. Quarterback Sean Hurforth likes to throw to his quick, speedy receiver Todd Simms.

The Bearcats are reported to have a strong kicking game led by punter Tom Luke and place-kicker Jeff Bungle.

Mercy Cross tops junior Rocks

The Mercy Cross 7th and 8th grade team defeated the St. Stanislaus 7th and 8th grade squad by a score of 14-6 in a hard fought football contest this past Monday afternoon at Rockchaw stadium.

The Rocks has practiced in full equipment less than a week, but showed a great potential in their blocking and tackling ability.

SSC recovered three Mercy Cross fumbles in the game. Ben Goliwas, Tate Thriffley, and Chris Grussendorf each had a recovery, while Keny Sanders was credited with several quarterback sacks.

Mercy Cross quickly jumped out to a 6-0 lead in the first quarter on a reverse around the end covering 42 yards. The two point conversion was no good.

Two series later the Crusaders scored again on a trick play as the quarterback threw a short pass to the tight end who lateraled to the halfback coming out of the backfield. The two point conversion was good and Mercy Cross led 14-0 at halftime.

The Rockchaws came to life in the second half when halfback Steven Bradley completed a pass to Brien Martin who took it down to the Mercy Cross one yard line. From there running back Galen Smith carried the ball into the endzone for the touchdown to trim Mercy Cross' lead to 14-6.

Rockchaw coach Jerry Spell said, "I'm satisfied with the effort our squad gave in their first game. We've got a lot of talent out there and we'll improve with practice."

The SSC coaches complimented the play of quarterback Scott Peterson and running back Sal Palmisano on offense, and nose guard Paul Scardino and linebacker Ryan Rambin on defense.

B-W Yacht Club wins Prince of Wales Bowl

The Bay-Waveland Yacht Club sailing team of Marc Eagan, Randy Santa Cruz and Dennis Stieffel won the United States Match Racing Championship for the Prince of Wales Bowl with a perfect score of 12 wins and no losses.

The event was sailed in Shields Class sailboats on Long Island Sound and hosted by the Larchmont Yacht Club of Larchmont, New York, Sept. 17-22.

The Shields is a 30-foot keel-type sailboat with a mainsail, jib and spinnaker.

This national sailing championship represents one of the most prestigious sailing titles in American sailing today. This match race competition for the Prince of Wales Bowl started in 1931 at the Acadia Yacht Club under the sponsorship of the Royal Nova Scotia Yacht Squadron.

Competition was held among clubs on the Eastern Seaboard for crews under 19 years of age. The trophy was permanently retired by the Vineyard Haven Yacht Club in 1937, but in 1985 the same club restored the Prince of Wales Bowl to active competition as a perpetual trophy for interclub match racing in North America.

The first two winners in this series were champions of Southern Massachusetts Yacht Racing Association; from 1967 on, the winners have been North American Yacht Racing Union and United States Yacht Racing Union champions.

The competition provides for two-boat round robin match races between yacht club teams until all but one team is eliminated and has accumulated the most points.

Eagan, Santa Cruz and Stieffel are well seasoned veteran sailors and have been sailing competitively for Bay-Waveland Yacht Club for more than 15 years.

Eagan is a graduate of Loyola University and is employed in this family's insurance firm in New Orleans.

He is married and has three young sons.

He has been sailing for B-WYC for approximately 20 years and has other national sailing titles to his credit including the Flying Scot North American Championship (4 times), the U.S. Men's Sailing Championship for the Clifford D. Mallory Cup and the U.S. Team

Race Championship for the George R. Hinman Trophy.

Santa Cruz is a graduate of Ole Miss with a degree in accounting and is currently a second year law school student at the University of Mississippi.

He has been sailing for B-WYC for approximately 15 years. In national sailing events, he has previously placed second and third in Flying Scot North American Championship events and has participated in a 1984 Soling Class Olympic Sailing Campaign with Dennis and Rod Stieffel placing ninth in the U.S. Olympic Sailing Trials.

The youngest of the three-man team is Dennis Stieffel who is a third year engineering student at Mississippi State University.

He has been sailing for B-WYC for slightly more than 15 years learning to sail at the age of six from his father, mother, brothers and sisters who have also earned significant sailing titles of their own.

He has had considerable experience in national events placing second in the U.S. Junior Sailing Championship for the Sears Cup, a winning team skipper in the U.S. Team Race Championship for the George R. Hinman Trophy, participation as a skipper in a 1984 Soling Class Olympic Sailing Campaign and currently the Prince of Wales title.

Junior high Tigers take third victory

The Bay St. Louis Junior High School Tigers remain undefeated and have added a victory over Pass Christian Junior High to their 3-0 record.

Bay downed Pass Christian 20-18 Thursday, following up victories against Pearl River Central and Stone County, Coach Gary Blaize said.

Bay scored its first touchdown on an eight yard run by Andy Foucha in the first quarter, then tried unsuccessfully for a two-point conversion.

Pass Christian scored twice, beginning in the first quarter on a 20-yard run by Ramone Jacobs.

Jacobs then went for two, giving the pairates an 8-6 lead over the Tigers.

In the second quarter, Jacobs scored on a 65-yard run, then pass for two more points, increasing the score to 16-6 at halftime.

In the third quarter, Bay turned the game around with a touchdown on 55-yard punt return by Foucha.

A conversion attempt was unsuccessful, but the Tigers had narrowed the margin to 16-12.

On the last play of the third quarter, Tiger Tony Low picked up a Pass Christian fumble and carried it 50 yards for a touchdown.

Another conversion attempt failed, but the Tigers had taken an 18-16 lead.

In fourth quarter action, Bay High backed Pass Christian up to the goal line and tackled the quarterback in the endzone for a safety, posting two more points on the scoreboard.

Pass Christian also scored on a safety in the fourth quarter, bringing the final score to 20-18.

"Our defense played real good throughout the whole game, especially in second half when we held them scoreless," Blaize said.

"The offense was also pretty steady during the whole game, but offensive line improved second half and allowed us to move the ball much better," the coach added.

He said the 18 points Pass Christian scored were the first points the Bay defense has given up in this years' three games.

The Tigers play again Monday night at 6 p.m. at Milner Stadium in Gulfport, where they will face St. John.

Offensive and defensive 'Player of the Week' selections in high school football for the season's first three weeks have been announced by the program sponsors, Lioacano's Health Club and Trophies by Ricky Geoffrey.

Delano Lewis of Hancock North Central is cited as outstanding on both offense and defense for the Hawks in their 24-7 win over the Stone County Tomcats.

Lewis amassed 114 yards and two touchdowns on ten carries.

He also scored eight individual tackles on defense and six assists. Bay High Tiger Dwayne Robertson takes offensive honors this week, cited for "...running the option well and turning in a good job passing and blocking—he really had an excellent game for Bay High."

Tiger defensive honors go to Greg Necaise with five unassisted and 13 assisted tackles.

For St. Stanislaus, Jorge Ponjuan scampered for an 11-yard touchdown against Mercy Cross as well as picking up 25 yards on six carries.

SSC defensive trophy goes to Jose Lau who scored six solo tackles and 10 assists.

In the HNC-St. John game, Charles Burton took offensive honors and Cory Blaize was tops in a defensive effort scoring system.

In Bay High's defeat of Stone County, Brian Lanaux carried 25

times for 140 yards to garner offense honors.

Greg Necaise was high on defense in that game with 13 assists, four solo tackles and a quarterback sack.

Ponjuan was tops offensively for SSC against Pearl River (La.) and Jerry Packrell "...made key tackles to stop Pearl River from making some very big plays."

Hancock's Lewis carried nine times for 95 yards against Pearl River Central for the best offensive effort of the game, and Tator Graham logged six individual tackles, four assists and "...played a good game at linebacker."

Offensive trophy winner for Bay High against Pass Christian was Lanaux with 142 yards rushing.

Wayne Karl was in on 16 tackles—13 assists and three solos to win the defensive trophy.

In the St. Stanislaus-St. John game, Jito Ascani raced 85 yards into the Eagles' end zone on a kickoff return.

Defensive honors in that game went to David Diboll who is credited with several key plays to stop St. John.

Coast Raiders hope to avenge early season loss

The Coast Episcopal High School Raiders took on Central Baptist Academy from Baton Rouge last Saturday, Sept. 20 and lost a tough ballgame 34 to 13.

Central took advantage of a porous Raider pass defense to score all their points in the first half while the Raiders scored once in each half.

The Central quarterback had an excellent arm and the ability to scramble which kept the Raider defense backed up the first half.

Adjustments made by the Raiders at the half finally stopped the Central on-slaught, but the damage had already been done.

Mike Hart topped all rushers with six carries for 33 yards, and Victor Marchese had eight carries for 24 yards. Make Hart also scored the Raiders only rushing touchdown on an 8-yard sneak and connected with Keith Ott for a 56 yard score in the second half.

Defensively, the Raiders could not seem to stop the long scoring passes and the sweeps by the Warriors. However, defensive standouts were Victor Marchese with five tackles and Sterling Thibodeaux with five tackles, two interceptions and returns for a total of 45 yards.

This coming Saturday, Sept. 27, the Raiders get the opportunity to avenge an earlier season loss to Calvary Heights of Baton Rouge.

This will be the second home game for Coast Episcopal and kick off is set for 2 p.m. The school is located two miles north of the beach on Espy Avenue in Pass Christian.

This national sailing championship represents one of the most prestigious sailing titles in American sailing today. This match race competition for the Prince of Wales Bowl started in 1931 at the Acadia Yacht Club under the sponsorship of the Royal Nova Scotia Yacht Squadron.

Competition was held among clubs on the Eastern Seaboard for crews under 19 years of age. The trophy was permanently retired by the Vineyard Haven Yacht Club in 1937, but in 1965 the same club restored the Prince of Wales Bowl to active competition as a perpetual trophy for interclub match racing in North America.

The first two winners in this series were champions of Southern Massachusetts Yacht Racing Association; from 1967 on, the winners have been North American Yacht Racing Union and United States Yacht Racing Union champions.

The competition provides for two-boat round robin match races between yacht club teams until all but one team is eliminated and has accumulated the most points.

Eagan, Santa Cruz and Stieffel are well seasoned veteran sailors and have been sailing competitively for Bay-Waveland Yacht Club for more than 15 years.

Eagan is a graduate of Loyola University and is employed in this family's insurance firm in New Orleans.

He is married and has three young sons.

He has been sailing for B-WYC for approximately 20 years and has other national sailing titles to his credit including the Flying Scot North American Championship (4 times), the U.S. Men's Sailing Championship for the Clifford D. Mallory Cup and the U.S. Team

Race Championship for the George R. Hinman Trophy.

Santa Cruz is a graduate of Ole Miss with a degree in accounting and is currently a second year law school student at the University of Mississippi.

He has been sailing for B-WYC for approximately 15 years. In national sailing events, he has previously placed second and third in Flying Scot North American Championship events and has participated in a 1984 Soling Class Olympic Sailing Campaign, with Dennis and Rod Stieffel placing ninth in the U.S. Olympic Sailing Trials.

The youngest of the three-man team is Dennis Stieffel who is a third year engineering student at Mississippi State University.

He has been sailing for B-WYC for slightly more than 15 years learning to sail at the age of six from his father, mother, brothers and sisters who have also earned significant sailing titles of their own.

He has had considerable experience in national events placing second in the U.S. Junior Sailing Championship for the Sears Cup, a winning team skipper in the U.S. Team Race Championship for the George R. Hinman Trophy, participation as a skipper in a 1984 Soling Class Olympic Sailing Campaign and currently the Prince of Wales title.

Junior high Tigers take third victory

The Bay St. Louis Junior High School Tigers remain undefeated and have added a victory over Pass Christian Junior High to their 3-0 record.

Bay downed Pass Christian 20-18 Thursday, following up victories against Pearl River Central and Stone County, Coach Gary Blaize said.

Bay scored its first touchdown on an eight yard run by Andy Foucha in the first quarter, then tried unsuccessfully for a two-point conversion.

Pass Christian scored twice, beginning in the first quarter on a 20-yard run by Ramone Jacobs.

Jacobs then went for two, giving the pairates an 8-6 lead over the Tigers.

In the second quarter, Jacobs scored on a 65-yard run, then pass for two more points, increasing the score to 16-6 at halftime.

In the third quarter, Bay turned the game around with a touchdown on 55-yard punt return by Foucha.

A conversion attempt was unsuccessful, but the Tigers had narrowed the margin to 16-12.

On the last play of the third quarter, Tiger Tory Low picked up a Pass Christian fumble and carried it 50 yards for a touchdown.

Another conversion attempt failed, but the Tigers had taken an 18-16 lead.

In fourth quarter action, Bay High backed Pass Christian up to the goal line and tackled the quarterback in the endzone for a safety, posting two more points on the scoreboard.

Pass Christian also scored on a safety in the fourth quarter, bringing the final score to 20-18.

"Our defense played real good throughout the whole game, especially in second half when we held them scoreless," Blaize said.

"The offense was also pretty steady during the whole game, but offensive line improved second half and allowed us to move the ball much better," the coach added.

He said the 18 points Pass Christian scored were the first points the Bay defense has given up in this years' three games.

The Tigers play again Monday night at 6 p.m. at Milner Stadium in Gulfport, where they will face St. John.

Prep athletes honored through weekly awards

By EDGAR H. PEREZ

Offensive and defensive 'Player of the Week' selections in high school football for the season's first three weeks have been announced by the program sponsors, Lolacano's Health Club and Trophies by Ricky Geoffrey.

Delano Lewis of Hancock North Central is cited as outstanding on both offense and defense for the Hawks in their 24-7 win over the Stone County Tomcats.

Lewis amassed 114 yards and two touchdowns on ten carries.

He also scored eight individual tackles on defense and six assists.

Bay High Tiger Dwayne Robertson takes offensive honors this week, cited for "...running the option well and turning in a good job passing and blocking—he really had an excellent game for Bay High."

Tiger defensive honors go to Greg Necaise with five unassisted and 13 assisted tackles.

For St. Stanislaus, Jorge PonJuan scampered for an 11-yard touchdown against Mercy Cross as well as picking up 25 yards on six carries.

SSC defensive trophy goes to Jose Lau who scored six solo tackles and 10 assists.

In the HNC-St. John game, Charles Burton took offensive honors and Cory Blaize was tops in a defensive effort scoring system.

In Bay High's defeat of Stone County, Brian Lanaux carried 25

times for 140 yards to garner offense honors.

Greg Necaise was high on defense in that game with 13 assists, four solo tackles and a quarterback sack.

PonJuan was tops offensively for SSC against Pearl River (La.) and Jerry Fackrell "...made key tackles to stop Pearl River from making some very big plays."

Hancock's Lewis carried nine times for 95 yards against Pearl River Central for the best offensive effort of the game, and Tator Graham logged six individual tackles, four assists and "...played a good game at linebacker."

Offensive trophy winner for Bay High against Pass Christian was Lanaux with 142 yards rushing.

Wayne Karl was in on 16 tackles—13 assists and three solos to win the defensive trophy.

In the St. Stanislaus-St. John game, Jino Ascani raced 85 yards into the Eagles' end zone on a kickoff return.

Defensive honors in that game went to David Diboll who is credited with several key plays to stop St. John.

Program sponsors said awards will be presented at the each school's football banquet at the end of the season.

Coast Raiders hope to avenge early season loss

The Coast Episcopal High School Raiders took on Central Baptist Academy from Baton Rouge last Saturday, Sept. 20 and lost a tough ballgame 34 to 13.

Central took advantage of a porous Raider pass defense to score all their points in the first half while the Raiders scored once in each half.

The Central quarterback had an excellent arm and the ability to scramble which kept the Raider defense backed up the first half.

Adjustments made by the Raiders at the half finally stopped the Central on-slaught, but the damage had already been done.

Mike Hart topped all rushers with six carries for 33 yards, and Victor Marchese had eight carries for 24 yards. Make Hart also scored the Raiders only rushing touchdown on an 8-yard sneak and connected with Keith Ott for a 56 yard score in the second half.

Defensively, the Raiders could not seem to stop the long scoring passes and the sweeps by the Warriors. However, defensive standouts were Victor Marchese with five tackles and Sterling Thibodeaux with five tackles, two interceptions and returns for a total of 45 yards.

This coming Saturday, Sept. 27, the Raiders get the opportunity to avenge an earlier season loss to Calvary Heights of Baton Rouge.

This will be the second home game for Coast Episcopal and kick off is set for 2 p.m. The school is located two miles north of the beach on Espy Avenue in Pass Christian.

Nationally ranked Juco titans to clash in Poplarville Saturday

POPLARVILLE—Two of the best junior college teams in the nation will square off on the Pearl River College campus here Saturday night.

The Pearl River Wildcats will entertain the undefeated Northwest Rangers at 7:30 p.m. in the Dobie Holden Stadium. Each team is ranked second in two separate national polls.

The Wildcats, fresh off a hard fought 14-7 win over the previously undefeated Hinds Eagles, are number two in the country by the J.C. Grindwire in Santa Ana Calif.

The Rangers were tagged number two last week by the National Junior College Athletic Association in Hutchinson, Kan. PRC was ranked 13th by the NJCAA and Northwest 19th in the Gridwire.

The Rangers ran their record to 4-0 last week with a 30-20 decision over winless East Mississippi. Rankings have not been released this week.

"I think it is safe to say the winner here Saturday night will be ranked as the number one team in America by at least one poll," said Larry Stanford, PRC's sports information director. "We are expecting a capacity crowd."

Both Pearl River and Northwest have a lot of things in common. The Rangers have scored 120 points while giving up only 62. PRC has scored 118 points while its defense has allowed just 33.

Both teams are very balanced with strong running games and quarterbacks and running backs with speed and quickness.

"Being ranked high in national polls does not add any more pressure on us," said PRC coach Mike Nelson. "Watching the films of the Rangers is all the pressure we can stand."

Pearl River and Northwest have played just 21 games over the years and PRC holds a commanding 17-4 advantage, however, the last 10 battles have been more like wars.

Last year the Rangers won the shootout at Senatobia with a 41-28 decision. The year before the Wildcats were the ones with the offensive power when the 'Cats came away with a 38-0 whitewash at Poplarville.

The last time the Wildcats won the state championship was when they defeated the Rangers 17-7 on the Northwest campus in 1976.

The Rangers entered that contest ranked number one in the nation. Earlier in that year the stage was set as the Rangers won 24-20 in the last few seconds.

The very next year, in the first game of 1977, PRC returned the favor with their own last second heroics in a dazzling 15-14 win. In 1979 the Wildcats won 41-7.

The two powers did not play in 1978 or '80 through '83.

"Northwest has a super offense," Nelson said. "They can score from anywhere on the field." The Rangers are basically a running football team as they have a two tight-end alignment.

The Rangers will matchup their explosive offense with the Wildcats defensive bunch which has given up only 207 yards rushing in four games.

NW defense is big and strong, but they have given up some points. "I guess the verdict is out on them at this time," Nelson said.

Last week against Hinds, Nelson thought his made too many mistakes and turned the ball over just too many times. "We were flat," Nelson said. "If we play the same way this Saturday we'll get whipped bad."

Nelson was very complimentary of his defensive unit and especially the play of Roy Wayne Jones and Marshall Roberts. Jones, from Eunice, La., scored the Wildcats second touchdown after blocking and then recovering a punt in the end zone.

Jones has 13 tackles including three sacks and Roberts from Covington, La. had 13 tackles and two sacks.

The Wildcats had to claw back from a slew of interceptions and fumbles to gain the victory.

The Wildcats turned the ball over eight times on four interceptions and four fumbles, but the PRC defense held the Eagles' offense inside the PRC 10 on three occasions.

The Wildcats' lone offensive score came on the first drive of the second half, following a 40-yard run from Thurman Geathers. An 8-yard pass from Gerald Tillman to Anthony Robinson was capped by Joey Tatum's PAT, ending a 10-play, 79-yard drive.

The Wildcat defense held off a last minute charge by the Eagles when with 5:12 to go in the game and the ball at the PRC 2-yard line, the defense forced a fumble which was recovered by Picayune's Shun Stubbs.

The game ended with another drive stopped at the PRC 28. Geathers led the rushing for the Wildcats with 79 yards.

Bendron Averette (Columbia) scored an interception, blocked field goal, fumble recovery and four sacks.

Also, Picayune's Shun Stubbs registered an interception and fumble recovery, Stanford Lewis (Picayune) had six tackles, and Jason Owens (Carriere) picked up six tackles and two sacks.

The Wildcats are 4-0 on the season and 2-0 in the South Division.

A year can make the difference

HATTIESBURG—Last season they never called his number. Last season he never ran plays into the quarterback, because in 1985, Preston Hansford sat on the sidelines as a red-shirt.

The 6-5½, 227 freshman has made big strides in his first year but admits it was tough to live last season as a non-contributor. "It wasn't the best thing, sitting out last season. I didn't feel that I was contributing much to the team. But on the other hand I feel the red-shirt year helped me. I came in my first year at 6-5, 195," said the Maylene, Ala., native.

In the Alabama game, starter Carlos Powell left early with a slight knee injury and it was Hansford's turn to show his stuff, and he did. Against the Tide, Hansford caught two big passes to help sustain a USM scoring drive. Besides helping his Golden Eagles, Hansford had additional motivation to excel.

"Being from Alabama, all I heard this summer was how good Alabama was. The coaches there told me when I was being recruited that I wasn't good enough to play major college football. I just wanted to show them that I could play," said Hansford.

Assistant coach Freeman Horton agrees that the year off helped Hansford, and he says the youngster has great potential. "He needed last year to work on his strength. This season he is coming along fine. He still has a long way to go, but the athletic ability is there. He is also a very smart player and he uses that to his advantage," says the tight end coach.

Whether Preston Hansford becomes an overnight sensation really isn't the question. "Right now I just want to concentrate on each game and what I am supposed to do. As long as the team is accomplishing its goals, we will be okay," says Hansford.

Starkville man wins bass finale

GREENVILLE—Terry Lunceford of Starkville deposited $1,200 into his bank account after winning first place in the Red Man bass fishing season finale held Sunday on Lake Ferguson.

Lunceford boated a seven-bass-limit weighing 27 pounds, 12 ounces, fishing brush in the upper part of the lake. He used a Bagley Magnum chartreuse DB-3 to easily out-distance the rest of the 113-man field.

Big bass honors and second place went to Jack Langston, a chiropractor from Winfield, Ala., who had six bass weighing 17 pounds, 4 ounces.

Langston used a 1/4 ounce Hawg Rustler chartreuse spinnerbait in Whittington Creek for his fish.

Hisunker bass tipped the scales at 7 pounds, 6 ounces. He banked $760 for second place and an additional $1,000 and a week's vacation for big bass.

David Huggins of Clarksdale took third place, reeling in four bass weighing 13 pounds, 1 ounce on a Mann's blue metalflake worm.

He fished the lower side of Ferguson for his fish and earned $450.

Fourth place went to Harold McKee of Memphis, Tenn., for collecting six bass weighing 12 pounds, 14 ounces in the White River.

He fished around logs in three to six feet of water for the fish. Fourth place paid $280. Bo Turner, also from Memphis, took fifth place with four bass totalling 11 pounds 13 ounces. Turner earned $250.

Rounding out the top ten positions were: (6) Jerry Speed, Dothan, Ala., three fish, 11 pounds, 11 ounces, $220; (7) Buddy Vanderford, Raleigh, Miss., five fish, 11 pounds, 2 ounces, $190; (8) Dudley Salers, Brandon, Miss., five fish, 10 pounds, 5 ounces, $160; (9) Carl Graham, Memphis, Tenn., three fish, 10 pounds, 2 ounces, $136; and (10) Barry Provis, Greenville, four fish, 10 pounds, $126.50.

River's new basketball coach brings impressive record from Stone

POPLARVILLE—Stone County Coach Peter Georgian was named Monday as the new basketball coach of Pearl River College.

Georgian is succeeding Lawrence Smith, who resigned Sept. 4 to take an assistant position with the Ole Miss Rebel basketball team.

"We are very gratified to have a proven, successful competitor in this science degree from the University of Southern Mississippi in 1973 and a master's degree in health, physical education and recreation from William Carey College in 1980. He is married to the former Violet Bates and they have one son, Timothy Matthew.

PETER GEORGIAN

position," said President Ted J. Alexander, in making his official announcement Monday.

"His record as a coach and as a teacher is an enviable one," Dr. Alexander said. "We are pleased to have him and his family on board here at the River."

Georgian has been with the Stone County School System since 1973 when he became instructor of American Civics and junior high girls and boys basketball coach.

In August 1975 he became coach of the Stone County High School teams. His girls record is 219-53 while his Tomcats have won 230 and lost only 69.

Georgian's overall record at Stone County since 1973 includes 572 victories and only 123 losses.

Georgian teams have been in the State Tournament in Jackson 10 times while winning 70 invitational tournaments, 15 conference championships, 13 district championships, two South State titles and the 1979 boys state championship. He was runner-up in the South five times and state runner-up with girls twice.

He has been voted Coach of the Year 10 times and has served as chairman of the South All Star Selection Committee and as the 1982 South All Star Coach.

"The people in Stone County have been great to me," said Georgian. "But there are times when you must move on and accept greater challenges."

Georgian said he is leaving Stone County with two tremendous teams. "The Tomcats should have the third or fourth best team ever at Stone County. Both teams will be very strong this year."

The new Pearl River coach said he was very impressed with the PRC facilities and the college's progressive attitude toward sports and athletics.

Georgian, 37, a Hattiesburg High graduate, received a bachelor of

Davis Bayou activities listed

Guided nature walks are scheduled for Saturday, Sept. 20 and 27, at the Davis Bayou area of Gulf Islands National Seashore in Ocean Springs.

Superintendent Jerry Eubanks said the programs begin at 2 p.m. each Saturday from the William M. Colmer Visitor Center located off US-90 in Ocean Springs.

The special programs begin with a 'Marsh Walk' on Saturday, Sept. 20. This one-hour nature walk will provide visitors with an opportunity to discover the plants and animals living along the edge of the salt marsh at Davis Bayou, and is accessible to the physically disabled.

Visitors are encouraged to join the afternoon program on Saturday, Sept. 27 for a walk along the 'Nature's Way Trail' at Davis Bayou.

"All of the programs are free of charge and open to the public and we hope that everyone will be able to take advantage of this opportunity to learn more about the resources of Gulf Islands National Seashore," said Eubanks.

For more information on these and other interpretive activities available through the Visitor Center at Davis Bayou, call (601) 875-9057.

Coast Episcopal honors outstanding students

Coast Episcopal High School recently honored students of exceptional academic abilities at awards ceremony at Christ Episcopal Church in Bay St. Louis.

Each year all students with a year-end average of 90 or above and no grade below 80 are given a certificate of recognition for this achievement.

Alpha certificates for a year-end average of 93 or above in each subject went to Lizette Giles and Cody Hargrave.

Beta certificates went to Margaret Murdock, Lauren Gipson, Sharon Orlin, Malise Marchal, Billy Guice, Laura Taylor, Rebecca Thompson, Stacey Standridge, Parker Deen, Jennifer Burkett, Cheryl Grassit, Melissa Cornelius and Ashley Neill.

National Education Development Test Certificates are given to those students in the ninth and tenth grades who performed at the 90 percentile or better as measured nationally. Certificates were given to Malise Marchal, Sean Bell, John Roper, Jr., Cody Hargrave, Stacey Standridge and Lauren Gipson.

The academic honors for excellent work in various departments began with the art and music awards presented by Mary Ann Grassit. Certificates of recognition went to seventh grader Rebecca Thompson for both art and music, and eighth graders Cheryl Grassit for music and Phillip Spinks for art.

Sandra Cazier presented English medals and scholarship certificates to Jennifer Burkett, Cheryl Grassit and Rebecca Thompson. Certificates of achievement went to Melissa Cornelius and Ashley Neill.

Madelyn Taylor awarded English medals and certificates of achievement to Malise Marchal, Cody Hargrave, Parker Deen and Lizette Giles.

Each year the University of the South at Sewanee, Tenn. recognizes outstanding juniors at over 200 high schools nationwide. This is the second year a Coast Episcopal student has been recognized and awarded the Sewanee Book of Excellence Award. The recipient of this award, an Oxford American Dictionary presented by Taylor, was Parker Deen.

PRC to participate in soil conservation program

Pearl River College's Board of Trustees recently voted to participate in the Soil Conservation Reserve Program.

The PRC Board took the action after David Smith of the Soil Conservation Service and Buddy Moody, chairman of the Pearl River County Soil and Water Conservation District, reported erosion on 40 of the nearly 200 acres which surrounds the Poplarville campus.

Smith said the college's acceptance into the program will not be known until a minimum-per-acre price is determined at a later date. School officials have already submitted their bid per acre proposal.

Smith and Moody both took the opportunity to advise the PRC governing board of other ways the Conservation Service could aid them in the care and development of the remaining acreage.

"The Soil and Water Conservation District and its resources are at your disposal," Moody said. "We will be more than happy to make suggestions for your land use."

Ideas thrown out to the board included establishing more lakes, a nature trail or a model outdoor classroom farm.

Chairman Jim Thriffley of Bay St. Louis appointed a committee to look into the best possible utilization and development of the acreage available.

In other Pearl River board action: —Status reports were made by the various college department heads about the 1986-87 school year which began last week.

—Progress payments were approved to Carter and Mullings Construction Company of Columbia in the amount of $209,247.30 and to architect Fred Wagner in the amount of $4,185 for services rendered in the renovation of White Hall on the Poplarville campus.

—Approved the bid of Southeastern Distributors Inc. of New Orleans in the amount of $17,950 for waterproofing of Moody Hall.

—Approved the employment of Robert Ellstrom as a full-time psychology instructor and Dow Ford as the college's director of admissions.

—Thriffley presented a trophy to PRC band director Archie Rawls and the PRC band for their participation in the Krewe of Triton Mardi Gras Parade.

—Larry Stanford presented a rough draft of the upcoming college magazine "The Riverside."

—The PRC board approved the July Claim Docket of $316,608.01.

SURPRISE VISITORS—Students at Kilo's Annunciation Early Childhood Learning Center received a special surprise on the first day of school when three colorfully dressed clowns dropped by for a visit. The clowns also presented each of the students with a balloon.

PRC records enrollment

Pearl River College, Mississippi's pioneer junior college, has a record fall enrollment.

By the time late registration ended, 1,726 students or 10.2 percent more than last year had registered at the Poplarville campus.

The total head count does not include the enrollments of the Forrest, Lamar, Hancock vocational-technical centers of the industrial training division, or academic and adult continuing education night classes in Columbia, Picayune, Bay St. Louis and at the National Space Technology Laboratories.

Pearl River's 1986 fall count tops that of the previous 1983 record of 1,669 and is 160 students more than the 1985 1,566 total.

Last year's certified count at the end of six weeks of school was basically the same as 1984. In fact, the River was one of only three junior colleges in the state to not record a drop last year.

"We're really excited," said Larry L. Stanford, director of recruiting. "Topping the 1,700 mark for daytime students is a milestone for us."

PASS HIGH OPEN HOUSE

Pass Christian High School will host an open house Monday, Oct. 6 at 7 p.m. Purpose of the open house is to acquaint parents and other interested community members with the faculty, curriculum, extra-curricular activities and facilities available at the school.

Following a brief welcome by Adrian Swanier, principal, the guests participate in an abbreviated school day schedule.

Public television addresses dropout problem

"Project Second Chance: Dropouts in America," a documentary about the scope and social cost of the nationwide school dropout problem, will be broadcast at 8 p.m., Wednesday, Oct. 1, on Mississippi ETV.

It will be rebroadcast at 12:30 p.m., Sunday, Oct. 5. At 1:30 p.m. that Sunday, Jack Schweitzer will host a discussion on Mississippi's dropout problem on "Access."

"Project Second Chance," narrated by Robert MacNeil of "The MacNeil/Lehrer NewsHour," points out that one in four students leaves school before receiving a high school diploma, often limiting his or her economic expectations for life.

In addition to pointing out the problem and its consequences, the documentary offers a story of hope through examples of persons in six states—California, New York, New Jersey, Wisconsin, Kentucky and Arkansas—who gave themselves a second chance by taking advantage of state or locally administered programs leading to a GED high school equivalency degree.

Mississippi ETV also is airing the GED-TV Series at noon, Mondays and Fridays, with rebroadcasts at 6 and 6:30 p.m., Sundays, for the purpose of helping viewers brush up on the skills necessary to have in order to pass the GED test and receive a High School Equivalency Certificate.

Peter Graves
Gets To Decide
How His Pictures
Come Out

So Do You

Introducing PhotoOption. At Revco you not only get top quality film developing, you get to choose how you want your pictures to come back. Thanks to an exciting new program called PhotoOption.

PhotoOption A. Do you want a single set of quality, glossy prints? And do you want them the day after you bring them in? That's what you get with PhotoOption A.

PhotoOption B. If you want a set of glossy prints for yourself and a set to share with a friend, you want our 2'n 2 program. You get two glossy prints from each negative in two days. And the color is identical on both sets.

PhotoOption C. We call this our Gold Seal 35 Option. And it's for 35mm film only. You get a state of the art, computer controlled set of larger than normal pictures that have quality printed all over them. And to make sure they're as good as we say they are, we double inspect them and safeguard them in special Gold Seal packaging.

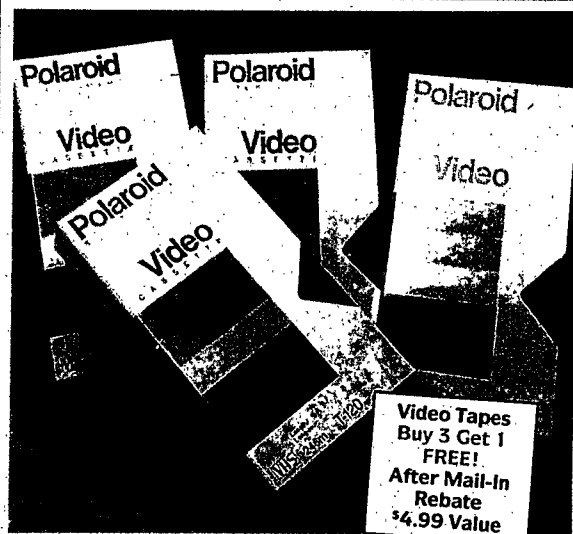

Special Offer. To get you acquainted with our new program, we'll give you PhotoOption C for the price of PhotoOption A. That's a terrific deal. But the offer's good only through October 25th. So if you have some 35mm film that needs processing, bring it to Revco. We're the only place that offers PhotoOption. But once you've tried us, we think we'll be the only place you want to come to anyway.
